Congratulations to Kiwanis Club
on Youth Center

Hope Kiwanis club is due a vote of thanks by the whole community for its successful promotion of the Hope Youth Center, which opened Saturday night in the old Elks Hall with a great turnout and lots of noise.

This is a continuation of the Teen-Age Club project which the Kiwanians launched during the war, but this time on a larger scale and with the expectation that it will be permanent.

The fight against juvenile delinquency is carried on all over America by attempting to give the kids something to do, either odd jobs, hobby interests, or by organizing social meetings.

The social meetings in many towns are limited to select groups, with the inevitable result that many kids are left out—and some of these forgotten youngsters become society's problem people a few years later. But in Hope the Kiwanis club has made a valiant attempt to do on a city-wide basis what society everywhere tries to do piecemeal—bring the kids together and keep 'em too busy to get into mischief. There is no more valuable undertaking for an adult organization in behalf of its own home town.

And it's a hard job. Our congratulations go also to George Frazier, the Youth Center's volunteer director. But if the job the Kiwanis club and Mr. Frazier have tackled is tough let it not be said it is a thankless one also. May everyone jump in and lend them a helping hand.

Kiwanis Opens Youth Center in Hope

Kiwanis Club Opens Hope Youth Center

The Kiwanis-sponsored Hope Youth Center got a rousing welcome on its opening Saturday night in the old Elks Hall, now owned by the City of Hope.

The result of months of planning by the Kiwanians and weeks of work by its volunteer director, George Frazier, the Youth Center got a tremendous stimulus February 25 when its story was broadcast from coast to coast over Mutual network.

Mr. Frazier, an announcer for KAR, Hope, had written the "Heart's Desire" program people in Hollywood, and on February 25 that program carried a list of gifts to Hope Youth Center. These included: A radio-phonograph combination and a selection of records; a ping-pong table and equipment; a card table and folding chairs; and a wide selection of games.

Local people joined in enthusiastically, among them being Mrs. Ole Olsen, who gave $150 cash for the purchase of a piano for the Center.

The 1939 act authorized utility boards and prescribed their duties. It did not empower them to issue revenue bonds, the high court held.

The opinion reversed a decision of the Poinsett Chancery Court in consolidated cases filed after both the town council and the utilities board of Lepanto sought to issue revenue bonds. The lower court held the board was authorized to issue the bonds.

Today it is starting life all over again—the tune of shrill voices and much—oh, very much—noise . . .

U. S. Ships to Pay Visit
to Norway

Washington, April 5—(P)—Six American fighting ships in a carrier task force will go to Norway this month on a good will visit, the navy announced today.

This demonstration of American might comes amid widespread rumors that Russia may bring pressure on Norway for mutual defense treaty such as she has called for from Finland.

The 20,000 ton Essex class carrier, Valley Forge, the 6,000 ton cruiser Fresno, and four destroyers will be Bergen, Norway, from April 29 to May 2.

The vessels will go to Norway after a visit to Southern England April 18 to 26.

The Navy's announcement said the visit will be "in continuation of the policy of making visits to friendly countries for the promotion of good will and furtherance of friendly relations."

The Valley Forge is in the Mediterranean for exercises. She is on a round-the-world trip from China with the American west coast as her ultimate destination.

The Valley Forge will call at Portsmouth, England, and the destinations at Southampton, the navy said.

On leaving England, this group of three will join the Fresno and the Destroyers Johnston and W. R. Rush. All will proceed to Bergen.

High Court Ruling Favors N. P. O'Neal

Little Rock, April 5—(P)—Boards of public utilities in second class cities and incorporated towns are not authorized to issue revenue bonds to pay for utility extensions and improvements, the Arkansas Supreme Court held today. Instead such authority is vested in the city or town council, the court ruled in an opinion which interpreted a section of Act 95 of 1939.

The 1939 act authorized utility boards and prescribed their duties. It did not empower them to issue revenue bonds, the high court held.

The opinion reversed a decision of the Poinsett Chancery Court in consolidated cases filed after both the town council and the utilities board of Lepanto sought to issue revenue bonds. The lower court held the board was authorized to issue the bonds.

Every Man Can't Help But Brag About His Trade— Whether Its Milk or Beer

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—The small man at the bar was nibbling away at a cheese sandwich when the big man next to him said:

"Buddy, this is a big anniversary. Drink up on me."

"What you celebrating?" asked the little man cautiously.

"The return of beer," said the big man. "Came back fifteen years ago this week. A wonderful day in history."

"Why?"

"It got me a job with a brewery."

The little man looked unim-

"Hmmm, how interesting," said the little man.

"You beer's been a big business ever since man climbed down out of the trees."

"Where do you think Joseph Priestley got his theory on how you need air to live? By watching bubbles rising in a brewery vat."

"Remember that guy John Alden who beat Miles Standish's time with Priscilla? Why do you think he brought him along on the Mayflower? Because he was a cooper and could keep the barrels repaired."

"I never heard that one," mumbled the little man, his mouth full of sandwich.

"Why, America wouldn't have been nothing except for beer. William Penn introduced beer into Pennsylvania and had his own brewery."

Miss Reva Lou Morris, Bride of David Ferris, Jr.

Miss Reva Lou Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Morris of this city became the bride of George David Ferris, Jr. of Barksdale Field, Louisiana, son of Mrs. Maclovina Coca of Aguilar, Colorado, in a beautiful single ring ceremony at four o'clock Sunday afternoon April 4 at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, The Reverend H. Paul Holdridge performed the impressive ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white Cala lilies, orchid stock and peach blossom, interspersed with huckleberry fern and white cathedral tapers burning in seven branched candelabra, and an arch decorated with the huckleberry fern. The kneeling bench was covered with white satin.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ethelene White, pianist, played the Benetton Love Song and accompanied Miss Maxine Tipton, soloist, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." To a wild rose was played softly during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used as processional and recessional.

Miss Jo Reba Sims and Miss Norma Jean Taylor were candle lighters. Miss Sims was gowned in pink taffeta and wore a corsage of blue iris. Miss Taylor was gowned in blue taffeta and her corsage was of white iris.

Mrs. W. F. Graham of Shreveport, Louisiana, matron of honor, wore a gown of pink taffeta and carried a nosegay of mixed spring flowers. Miss Mildred Foster, maid of honor, wore a blue marquise gown and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Bridesmaids were Miss Morris' twin sisters, Misses Pauline and Corene Morris, who wore powder blue marquise gowns and carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers, and halos of pink sweetpeas completed her costume.

Master Freddie Smith, wearing a light blue gabardine suit carried the ring on a pillow of white brocaded satin. Little Miss Celia Godwin, flower girl, was dressed in pink net over taffeta and wore a halo of sweetpeas in her hair. She carried a basket of mixed petals.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with high neckline and tiny satin covered buttons down the front to the waist and a bustle effect back which fell in tiers of accordian pleats to the hem. The sleeves were full, three-quarter length and ended in accordian pleats. Her veil of illusion fell from a halo of tiny pearls and ended in a long train over the wedding gown. She carried a white Bible topped with a bridal corsage of blue iris and vanda orchids with a shower of white satin and sweet peans.

Little Miss Pearl Coca, sister of the groom, carried the bride's train.

Pic. Frederick Gonzales of New York City, New York, served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were: Cpl. Dale P. Evans of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Sgt. Edward D. Lagerstrom of Elgin, Illinois, and Pic. Marion R. Cook of Palo Alto, California who are stationed at Barksdale Field, La. Ushers were: Fred Robertson and James Charles Russell.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Morris, a dusty rose dressmaker suit with black accessories and her corsage was of blue dutch iris. Mrs. Coca, mother of the groom, chose a navy blue dressmaker suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink sweetpeas completed her costume.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on East Thirteenth street. The bride's table was covered with an imported Japanese silk cloth and decorated with a crystal bowl of white and pink sweetpeas and held the three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. White tapers burned at each corner of the table with streamers of white satin tied with sweetpeas extending to the centerpiece.

Mrs. George Wylie, Jr. presided over the cake and Miss Naomi Brunner assisted her in serving the guests. Miss Dorothy Joyce Ray presided at the punch bowl. Miss Carolyn Holdridge presided at the bride's book.

For traveling, the bride wore a pink wool Jersey dress with black accessories and a corsage of blue iris and vanda orchids completed her costume.

Market Report

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, April 5 — (AP) — Higher prices ruled in grains on the board of trade today. Wheat showed the most strength with both corn and oats following the upward trend in the bread cereals. Gains were, not large.

Reports of high winds and some damage to wheat in Kansas over the week-end caused most of the buying in that grain. The market suffered a sinking spell at one time but bounced back. Corn was aided by another drop in the visible supply, which now totals 8,738,000 bushels, against 34,770,000 bushels a year ago.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 to 1 cent higher, May $2.46—$2.55; 3/4, corn was 1 1/4 to 1 cent higher, May $2.20—$2.19; 3/4, oats were 5 1/2 pence to 1 1/8 higher, May $1.13 3/8—$1.2, and soybeans were 2 cents higher, May $2.70.

Prices of cash wheat were nil today; basis unchanged; receipts 44 cars. Corn was steady; basis unchanged to a cent lower; bookings 55,000 bushels; shipping sales 5,000 bushels; receipts 148 cars. Oats were one to two cents lower; basis one to two cents less; receipts 31 cars. Soybeans receipts were four cars.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

New Orleans, April 5 — (AP) — Heavy trade buying in cotton futures today advanced prices $1.45 to $2.30 a bale.

The tone at the close was steady. May high 36.16 — low 35.84 — close 36.00-10.

Jly high 34.45 — low 35.07 — close 35.37-49.

Oct high 32.31 — low 32.00 — close 32.20-27.

Dec high 31.52 — low 31.35 — close 31.48.

Mch high 31.25 — low 31.11 — close 31.24B.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, April 5 — (AP) — Cotton futures were steady in active dealings today, supported by considerable trade buying in the old crop deliveries. Comission houses bought the deferred positions influenced by the passage of the foreign aid legislation and exparcations of a tight situation in spot cotton well into the fall.

A leading spot firm, who was a prominent buyer last week, turned to the selling side. However, another spot house turned a strong buy-strike, May and accumulated upwards of 1,000 bales.

The July 1948 delivery made a new season's high.

Futures closed $1.40 to $1.55 a bale higher than the previous close. May high 36.17 — low 35.30 — last 36.00-10 up 39 to 40.

Jly high 35.45 — low 35.10 — last 35.35-38 up 40 to 43.

Oct high 32.33 — low 32.08 — last 32.27 up 29.

Dec high 31.51 — low 31.34 — last 31.50 up 28.

Mch high 31.32 — low 31.05 — last 31.28 up 36.

May high 31.00 — low 30.75 — last 30.95N up 32.

Mid-March spot 37.03N, up 39 N-normal.

THE STORY

Patience Mond goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts who have brought her up and with whom she lives in the country. On the commuting train she meets Paul Taylor, who lives in a neighboring village and who finds his heart attracted to the prim young girl. They date secretly. Patience, knowing her aunts would disapprove, Paul tells her he loves her. Patience's dream of happiness is shattered when the aunts discover her perfidy, forced her to promise not to see Paul again.

VII

She went back into the house when at last her tears had stopped and upstairs to her own room. She sat down at the little writing table in the window and found note paper and envelopes. It was the first love letter she'd written. She supposed it would almost certainly be the last.

She sat nibbling the end of her pen. She made several false starts and then in the end the letter she wrote came quite easily. As easily—more easily in fact for then she'd have been shy—as if she'd been talking to him. She told him that her aunts had found out about them. That her Aunt Helen had forbidden her to see him or speak to him again. "Please, Paul darling, don't try to make me break the promise I had to give her. Because it won't make any difference. Nothing you can say would make me go back on it. Nothing you can do. So this is the end. Except to thank you for all the happiness you've given me. Knowing you has been the love-liest thing that has ever happened to me."

She read the letter through and then put it in an envelope and sealed it. She posted it the next morning. It was a Saturday. This afternoon he'd be waiting for her train to come into St.ford station hoping that possibly she'd be on another one.

But he was waiting at the station. Her heart shook at the sight of him, and her knees turned to jelly. He strode towards her and took her arm in a firm grip and said angrily: "What is all this nonsense? That ridiculous letter I received from you this morning?"

"It's not nonsense, Paul. I meant every word of it."

"I don't believe it."

"It was impossible to argue with him there on the platform with people hurrying and scurrying all around them. They found seats in a crowded carriage, and as soon as the train started went out into the corridor. Here at least they were more or less alone. Paul looked down at her and now the anger was fading from his eyes.

"Patience darling, they can't do this to you."

Patience swallowed hard. Her hands gripped the brass rail running along the window.

"The trouble is they can."

He looked at her for a long moment. "You're not really going to let them get away with it?"

"How can I help it?"

"Stand up to them. Tell them to go to blazes!"

"Oh, Paul, Paul, if you knew them you'd understand that what you're suggesting is quite impossible."

"I understand one thing," he flung at her bitterly. "I don't matter to you the way you matter to me."

She wrung her hands.

"Paul, that's so untrue. You matter to me more than anyone else in the world. I never dreamed I could say this way about anybody. I—" she broke off in confusion. It was the first time she'd said anything like this to him.

"That's so easy to say."

"I mean it."

"Then prove it by telling your Aunt Helen that when you get home that you're breaking that promise she gave her. Breaking it because she's got no right to insist on your making it. Tell her you're engaged to me and you want to marry me."

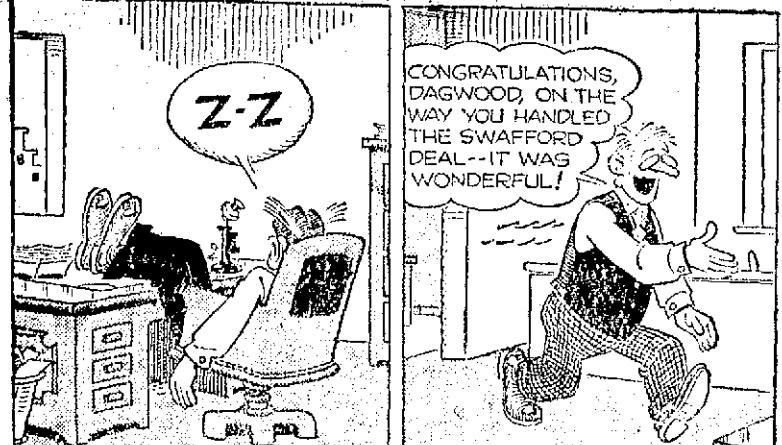

Patience was almost dreading

"TO BE SURE, TO BE SURE! MY CHOICE IS THE INTREPID HOOPER WHO SNATCHED VICTORY FROM DEFEAT, YOUR FRIEND AND MINE, THE HONORABLE—"

"LARD SMITH!"

"NOT THAT I SPEECH, MR. MAYOR, OR EVERYBODY ANXIOUS TO KNOW WHICH BOY IS TO BE MAYOR FOR A DAY!"

"AW GEE, UNCA DONALD... A FIVE-WORD COMPOSITION! IT'LL BE LATE T' THE SHOW!"

"NO HOMEWORK... NO MOVIE... GET BUSY!"

"HURRAY NOW, ADELBERT! SHOO! MAIL THOSE LETTERS TO YOUR UNCLE GOLLYWOK RIGHT AWAY!"

"DID YOU SEND A LETTER TO KOKOMO, INDIANA, MAW?"

"OH, LAND SAKES, NO, I DIDN'T! WAIT..."

"NO FIND RED RYDER AND LITTLE BEAVER, PRINCESS FIRELY! ME NOT BELIEVE IT!"

"NO TRUST PALEFACES! WE ATTACK NOW!"
